SUPERVISORS CAUCUS ON THE NEW BUDGET

Following is a brief resume of the business of the supervisors at a short meeting held last night. After the meeting the supervisors took up the budget in caucus:

Communication from civil service commission, urging appointment of inspector and instructor of police. To police committee.

Report from health committee on Ad Club's suggestion for free disposal of ships' garbage, disapproving suggestion. Adopted.

Report from roads committee recommending that right-of-way be acquired for road from Puuloa railroad station to naval reservation. Adopted.

Report from roads committee recommending notices be sent to property owners on Ewa side of South street, between King and Kawaiaha streets, for sidewalk. Adopted.

Report from roads committee recommending that contract for Wahiwa road to J. V. Costa and Fernandes for $9984 be awarded.

LEAH HOME MAY GET ALLOWANCE OF $250 A MONTH

Leah Home will receive an appropriation from the city and county of $250 a month, if the board of supervisors does not change the decision reached by it at a meeting last night when it took up the budget for the next semi-annual period.

In place of increasing the appropriation to $500 a month, as the home has asked, or doing away with it entirely, as has been discussed by several members of the board, the city fathers will allow it to remain at $250 unchanged from the last period. The item was passed on the budget last night with very little discussion. It was stated that they believed the best course would be to give the home the $250 a month for the treatment of indigent tuberculosis patients sent there by James T. Wayson, city and county physician. An understanding probably will be reached by the board with the home that the $250 is to be the only financial assistance the city and county will give it.

It was several months ago that Leah asked that its allowance be increased from $250 to $500, pointing out that the home was running behind and needed the extra money to meet its current expenses. Since the request has been made there has occurred a sharp difference of opinion on its merits in which the supervisors have taken part, and in which Dr. Wayson also has had a word to say.

Peace now seems to be in sight between Leah and the city fathers. The fact that they have continued the allowance, and not disallowed it as was feared would be the case, is the basis for the belief that all is well now between the board and the home.

LALAKEA SUE.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] HILLO, Dec. 5.—Special Prosecutor Breckons filed two suits this week against T. K. Lalakea based on the payment of illegal warrants, while he was county treasurer of Hawaii. One of the suits is for $385 and the other for $870. While Lalakea's attorney, W. H. Smith, says they think they have a good defense, he refuses to state what the nature of it will be. Besides these suits Lalakea is defendant in a similar one—one based on the same grounds—filed by the first

KAMEHAMEHA STUDENTS WILL BE HOSTS AT ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT

The girls and boys of the Kamehameha schools will break into song and dance this evening in Bishop hall, the occasion being a concert for the purpose of raising funds to replenish the treasury of the Athletic Association. Under the direction of E. G. Bartlett, a lengthy and varied program has been arranged, including both Hawaiian and popular songs, stunts, instrumental numbers and fancy dances in costume. The concert is scheduled to commence sharply at 8 o'clock and the admission will be 50 cents.

On the football field, in the assembly hall or in chapel, the singing of the Kamehameha students is always a feature for, being Hawaiians, music is as a second nature to them. If the tourist is seeking a bit of rare, native melody, he will find it at the concert; or if the Kamehameha is desirous of hearing the rendition of a popular song by a snappy quartet, his desire will be fulfilled at the concert. Kamehameha put an excellent football team in the field this year and it took money to furnish the necessary equipment for it. This expense was stood by the athletic association. The funds derived from the concert will be used to replace this expense money.

The program follows:

PART I.
 "Joys of Spring".....Glebel Senior Girls.
 Piano Duet—"Charge of the Uhlans".....Edna Murray and Charlotte Ahole.
 "Kui Ipo Ika Lai O Ehu".....Kamehameha Alumni Glee Club.

Schofield Notes

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Dec. 6.—The detailing of Lieutenant Colonel George W. Melvor, 18th Infantry, to fill the vacancy in the adjutant-general's department, caused by the retirement last week of Colonel Alexander O. Brodie, carries promotion to the grade of 1st lieutenant to Lieutenant Seth E. Schofield, 1st Infantry. His promotion will doubtless take Lieutenant Schofield away from Hawaii as he expects an assignment to a regiment in the states.

Second Lieutenant Richard Taylor left on the transport yesterday for a short leave to be spent in California. Lieutenant Taylor has been the victim of much good-natured chaffing since the publication of his leave order which departed from the usual phraseology of leave orders granted in Hawaii and announced, instead of leave being granted under "exceptional" circumstances, that his leave was granted under "extraordinary" circumstances. Lieutenant Taylor will be married within a day or two after his arrival in San Francisco to Miss Marion Hill of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. He will return with Mrs. Taylor on the January transport.

Second Lieutenant Henry B. Post, 25th Infantry, who has been attending the Army Aviation School at San Diego, Cal., qualified as a military aviator on November 11 and has been ordered to Hammondsport, N. Y., for a short course in aviation construction at the Curtis plant.

The war department order assigning 2d Lieutenant Eugene M. Owen to the 4th cavalry has been received here. Lieutenant Owen was formerly a corporal in the quartermaster corps. He will sail from the coast on the January transport.

In both the infantry regiments here the officers who are attending the post graduate course of the garrison school have been directed to make a careful reading of Steele's "American Campaigns" for the school work for December.

MAUI NEWS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] WAILUKU, Maui, Dec. 5.—One of the old-fashioned storm struck Maui this week. Beginning on Tuesday it has rained incessantly ever since. This morning the rain let up somewhat and there has been a little sunshine this afternoon. The storm has been general over the whole of Maui. Lahaina also for the first time in months getting its share.

On Wednesday night the big scow used by the dredger in Kahului harbor was thrown up on the Wailuku side of the beach almost to the highway. Before dredging could proceed it had to be gotten off into place again.

Mrs. H. P. Baldwin who returned on the last China, has been a guest while in Honolulu of Mrs. J. P. Cooke.

Mrs. Walter G. Engle has recently paid her host of friends on Maui a visit extending over some 10 days. She brought her young son with her. Her visit was in Hamakua, Maunawili and Wailuku upon old friends. Mr. Engle made a short visit on Maui, taking his wife and son back on last Saturday's boat.

Mrs. R. B. Dodge of Wailuku received a cable today telling her of her mother's sudden death. Her parents, Professor and Mrs. John E. Sinclair, had just left the east for California, from which place Mrs. Dodge had just received a letter saying that her mother had contracted a severe cold. The cable was from the east telling of the sudden death, but giving no particulars.

E Pluribus.

A small boy of three was playing in the street between the car tracks while a bigger boy of eleven or thereabouts stood on the sidewalk and looked on.

The Good Samaritan passed that way. He addressed the bigger boy. "Is the little fellow your brother?" he asked.

"Then bring him in from between the tracks; he might get run over."

"Aw," replied the bigger boy, "that don't make no difference, we got plenty like him to home."

LIQUOR BOARD ABIDES BY THE LEGAL RULING

Refuses to Allow Transfer from Retail to Wholesale License—Christmas Permits

Acting upon the opinion of Attorney-general Wade Warren Thayer, the Board of Liquor License Commissioners, yesterday afternoon, refused to grant to T. Usui and Company, a wholesale liquor concern, an application to purchase the license of the Bertha Klemme. According to the attorney-general, such a grant would be unlawful from the fact that it is against the law to sanction the transfer of a license which would mean a change of location, and also that it is not within the jurisdiction of the board to permit the transfer of a license which would change it from a retail to a wholesale one.

Because it is alleged he technically violated the liquor law by permitting betting in his place of business, Dick Sullivan, proprietor of the Fashion Saloon, was notified that his establishment would be closed on Monday and Tuesday next. Sullivan, it is said, allowed his saloon to be used as a betting ring for a certain horse race which, it was later discovered, had been "fixed."

On condition that he secures the consent of the majority of the property owners in the neighborhood, Walter F. Drake will be allowed to have the license of the Encore Saloon transferred to him. He will have a controlling interest in the business, he told the board. The Togashi Hotel's application for a ten house license was denied. The location of the house on Kalakaua avenue did not meet with favor from the members of the commission. An application from the Wailuku Inn to be allowed to sell liquor after hours on Christmas Eve was denied.

The final action of the board was the granting of special permits to the Young and Moana hotels to sell liquor until 3 o'clock on New Year's morning.

NOTE THE PYRAMIDS OF EGYPT AND CARAVAN ON PAGE 17 TODAY

There appears in today's Star-Bulletin (page 17) a full page cut representing the pyramids of Egypt with a caravan resting in the vicinity. As can be seen it is an advertising scheme, but a scheme that is of equal advantage to the merchant and the customer, for every word on the page will be, or has been read by everybody capable of reading in this city. For the last five or six years the artist, C. F. Merrill of the editorial staff of this paper, has offered to the merchants of Honolulu, during the holiday month, some such scheme as is presented today, and the spaces that were set aside for advertising were quickly snapped up by the live merchants, so quickly that there were not enough to supply the demand, and it is possible that in the future there will be provision made for a double page scheme.

The picture will be run on the next two Saturdays before Christmas and again on December 23, making four issues in all.

KEALOHA EXCUSED FROM JURY SERVICE ON GROUNDS OF OFFICE

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] HILLO, Dec. 5.—Supervisor John A. Kealoa has saved his face and that of the Fourth circuit court from having him act as a juror.

Strange to say, the supervisor is in hearty sympathy with the solution of the problem of how to keep a man under indictment on seventeen counts from acting as a juror, which has been a puzzling subject to the court, the county attorney's department and to even some of the defending attorneys. But this did not happen until after Kealoa had actually been passed and accepted as a juror. After this he was amiable to suggestion. As he puts it: "I didn't want to be classed with criminals."

It all came about in this manner: When the jury for the trial of a Filipino charged with burglary was drawn Monday morning, Kealoa's name came out of the box. Assistant County Attorney Heen, for the first time this court term, examined the jurors for the prosecution and there was considerable interest manifested among the spectators as to what he intended to do about Kealoa. That he did not intend to do anything was quickly shown.

Judge Parsons was also interested which he made evident by asking Heen:

"Are you prepared to present authorities to show whether Kealoa is disqualified to act as a juror while his conviction in the district court is under appeal?"
 "I am not," answered Heen. "Although it is my idea that he is not disqualified so long as the conviction is not confirmed."
 There was still one more chance. Attorney Russell, representing the defendant still had his third peremptory challenge to make or waive.

Attorney Russell waived his third peremptory challenge and Kealoa was at last a juror, passed and qualified to sit in judgment of the suspected sins of another.

Later Judge Parsons showed that he was dissatisfied. Just before examination of the first witness began, he asked Kealoa:
 "Are you not embarrassed to sit on this jury, when you are soon to be tried upon a serious charge?"
 "No, I am not embarrassed," genially responded the supervisor.

"If you wanted to be excused you could claim exemption on the ground that you are a supervisor," the court told him.

"I didn't know that," was Kealoa's response. This way of getting out of the matter appealed to him—perhaps because the December session of the county fathers was to be held this week at which Kealoa wanted to be present—for a few moments afterwards he asked to be excused on the exemption granted him by the jury law. There was no hesitation on the part of the court in granting it.

The Exception.
 "Does the missus interfere in th' kitchen work?" inquired the investigator.
 "Does she?" replied the stout cook.
 "Don't think it!"
 "And doesn't she do any of the cooking?"

OAHU COLLEGE TRUSTEES OPPOSE COSTLY PRESENTS

That the trustees of Oahu College are opposed to the giving of individual presents to teachers by either pupils or pupils' parents and that gifts of any kind should be simple and inexpensive is the opinion of the trustees, as demonstrated by the following letter from President A. F. Griffiths, president of the college:

To the Parents of Pupils:

It is requested that pupils or parents do not give individual presents to teachers at the school.

It is also requested that class or group gifts either to the schools or to teachers be given only on significant occasions and that in such instances the gifts be simple and relatively inexpensive.
